

St. Jerome's University in the University of Waterloo

Department of English

Introduction to Linguistics (ENGL 306A)
Winter 2020

Class Times/Location: Tuesday and Thursday 6:30pm-7:50pm, SJ2 2003

Instructor: Dr. Elena Afros

Email: eafros@uwaterloo.ca

Office Hours: Tuesday and Thursday, 7:50pm-8:50pm

Course Description: The course includes a general account of the nature of language and of the aims, methods, and basic principles of linguistic theory, as well as an introduction to each of the main sub-fields of linguistics: phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, and semantics. Its main concern is with imparting the basic conceptual foundations of linguistics and the methods of argumentation, justification, and hypothesis testing within the field.

Course Objectives: Course Introduction to Linguistics will

1. Lead students to examine their own beliefs and attitudes about language and language use
2. Make students aware of both the diversity of language systems and their fundamental similarities
3. Introduce students to the following subfields of linguistics: phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and historical linguistics
4. Equip students with fundamental tools and techniques for linguistic analysis and give them some practice in using these to discover the organizing principles of a language

5. Acquaint students with the basic concepts necessary to further pursue linguistic studies

Required textbook: Finegan, Edward. Language: Its Structure and Use. 7th edition. Cengage, 2015.

One copy of the textbook is available on Reserve at the St. Jerome's University library. Additional readings (see Schedule and LEARN) are available on eReserves and in Dana Porter Library.

Please bring your textbook to every class.

Course Requirements: To receive credit in this course students must complete five homework assignments (25%), two quizzes (15% each), and a final exam (40%); 5% of the final mark are reserved for class participation. Students are expected to attend classes regularly (six missed classes will result in “0” for Participation), actively participate in class discussions and group work, submit their homework on time, and write quizzes and the final exam. Late assignments are not accepted (unless accompanied by the doctor’s note). Homework assignments must be typed and double-spaced (see LEARN); a paper copy must be submitted in class. In case of illness, an e-copy should be emailed to the instructor on a due date, and a paper copy should be submitted in class. Marked assignments will be returned in class.

For Schedule, see LEARN.

Electronic Device Policy

Students are allowed to use electronic devices in class for educational purposes only. For more information on the rationale behind this policy, see Whitford, E. (2018, July 27). The myth of multitasking. Inside Higher Ed. Retrieved from:

Important Information

Academic Integrity: To maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo and its Affiliated and Federated Institutions of Waterloo (AFIW) are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for their actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under the St. Jerome’s University Policy on Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to University of Waterloo Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of their university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read the St. Jerome’s University Policy on Student Petitions and Grievances. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the St. Jerome’s Advising Specialist, Student Affairs Office, who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under the St. Jerome’s University Policy on Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or the St. Jerome’s University Policy on Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes they have a ground for an appeal should refer to the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Appeals.

Note for Students with Disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.

Mental Health Support

Territorial Acknowledgement

We acknowledge that we are living and working on the traditional territory of the Attawandaron (also known as Neutral), Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee peoples. The University of Waterloo is situated on the Haldimand Tract, the land promised to the Six Nations that includes 10 kilometres on each side of the Grand River.

For more information about the purpose of territorial acknowledgements, please see the CAUT Guide to Acknowledging Traditional Territory \(PDF\).

Academic freedom at the University of Waterloo

Policy 33, Ethical Behaviour states, as one of its general principles (Section 1), “The University supports academic freedom for all members of the University community. Academic freedom carries with it the duty to use that freedom in a manner consistent with the scholarly obligation to base teaching and research on an honest and ethical quest for knowledge. In the context of this policy, 'academic freedom' refers to academic activities, including teaching and scholarship, as is articulated in the principles set out in the Memorandum of Agreement between the FAUW and the University of Waterloo, 1998 (Article 6). The academic environment which fosters free debate may from time to time include the presentation or discussion of unpopular opinions or controversial material. Such material shall be dealt with as openly, respectfully and sensitively as possible.” This definition is repeated in Policies 70 and 71, and in the Memorandum of Agreement, Section 6.

Writing and Communication Centre

The Writing and Communication Centre (WCC) works with students as they develop their ideas, draft, and revise. Writing and Communication specialists offer one-on-one support in planning assignments, synthesizing and citing research, organizing papers and reports, designing presentations and e-portfolios, and revising for clarity and coherence.

You can make multiple appointments throughout the term, or you can drop in at the Library for quick questions or feedback. To book a 50-minute appointment and to see drop-in hours, visit www.uwaterloo.ca/wcc. Group appointments for team-based projects, presentations, and papers are also available.

Please note that communication specialists guide you to see your work as readers would. They can teach you revising skills and strategies, but will not change or correct your work for you.
