Course Description and Objectives

This course is an introduction to the study of law, its structure, and legal institutions from a cross cultural and historical perspective. This interdisciplinary course examines the origins of the legal system in Canada and their impact on society. Included is an analysis of the diverse social, historical, political, economical, moral, and cultural conditions under which the law arises and functions within society. The objectives of this course are four-fold:

- To familiarize students with the foundation and sources of law
- To develop a basic understanding of the structure and function of legal institutions
- To explore the processes of law-making and overview the various legal actors
- To encourage students to think critically about the role of law and its impacts on different segments of society in conjunction with the application of traditional and contemporary theoretical perspectives

Through a combination of lectures, class discussion and assignments, the goal of the course is to consider the ways in which the law modifies and is modified to uphold particular societal interests. In addition, students will be encouraged to critically assess the manner in which the law is constituted as a legitimate method to invoke social change.

Communication and Email Etiquette

You are welcome to speak to me after class, drop by my office during office hours, or make an appointment to discuss assignments etc.

Please be considerate and polite in your emails to the course instructor. You must include your full name and student ID number when submitting email correspondence. If there is an emergency cancellation for the course, the cancellation information will be posted there.

Course Requirements

- Mid-Term 1 (30%) Date Week 6 Wednesday October 17th, 2018
- Mid-Term 2 (30%) Date Week 10 Wednesday November 14th, 2018
- 10 Weekly Critical Response (10%) Due each Monday (in class – hard copy only)
- Final Exam (30%) TBA (non-cumulative)

The weekly critical response is a one page, single-spaced (hand written or typed) document that requires you to answer the question (s) posed at the end of Wednesday's class. This necessitates critical reflection on the topic we are covering and reference to theories and concepts we have broached throughout the lecture. You will be given 20 minutes to begin your composition and the weekend to finalize a response. Your answer must include reference to the textbook reading for that particular week/module. Please indicate the textbook page number in your write-up. There should be a minimum of two references to the text for each CRP.

As for testing, each mid-term includes 30 true/false multiple-choice questions. The final exam will cover the final topics in the course and consist of two additional sections, including true/false and multiple choice.

1. Short answer questions – 4 worth 5 % each for a total of 20%
2. Essay questions – select one of two options worth 10%

IMPORTANT INFORMATION - Please read the following very carefully!

Missed Examinations and Tests

If you are unable to write a mid-term or final examination due to illness, seek medical treatment and have a medical practitioner complete a Verification of Illness Form. Email the instructor within 48 hours. Make sure you include your name, student ID number, and the exam(s) missed. You will be REQUIRED to hand in the original completed form before you write the make-up examination.

Further information about Examination Accommodation Due to Illness regulations is available in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Academic Integrity: in order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo community are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4,
<http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy70.htm>

“Students who believe that they have been wrongfully or unjustly penalized have the right to grieve; refer to policy #70, Student Grievance,
<http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/policy70.html>.”

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offenses, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offense, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offenses (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean.

When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline, <http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy71.htm>

Avoidance of Academic Offences

"Note on avoidance of academic offenses: All students registered in the courses of the Faculty of Arts are expected to know what constitutes an academic offense, to avoid committing academic offenses, and to take responsibility for their academic actions. When the commission of an offense is established, disciplinary penalties will be imposed in accord with Policy #71 (Student Academic Discipline). For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students are directed to consult the summary of Policy #71 (Student Academic Discipline) which is supplied in the Undergraduate Calendar (p.1:11). If you need help in learning how to avoid offenses such as plagiarism, cheating, and double submission, or if you need clarification of aspects of the discipline policy, ask your course instructor for guidance. Other resources regarding the discipline policy are your academic advisor and the Undergraduate Associate Dean."

Appeals: A student may appeal the finding and/or penalty in a decision made under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than regarding a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline if a ground for an appeal can be established. Read Policy 72 - Student Appeals, <http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy72.htm>

Special Needs Students: Students with disabilities or special needs are advised to contact the Office for Students With Disabilities, Needles Hall for information regarding its services and resources. Students are encouraged to review the Calendar for information regarding all services available on campus.
